Washington, DC - The Latino Coalition (TLC), the leading national non-partisan advocacy organization representing Hispanic businesses and consumers, released the following statement praising Comcast Corporation for leading the technology market with the Terabyte Internet Experience.

On June 1st, Comcast will more than triple the monthly data threshold in various markets from 300 GB to a full Terabyte, regardless of the users speed. The Terabyte Internet Experience is a result of Comcast's data-usage cap trials from 2015.

"The Latino Coalition congratulates Comcast Corporation for meeting the demands of its customers and working to evolve its Internet data technology," said Allen Gutierrez, TLC's National Executive Director. "Taking into account the wide ranging needs of your customers helps advance a company and increases confidence in your brand. We look forward to the launch of the Terabyte Internet Experience and applaud your efforts at being the best, fastest and most reliable network for high speed Internet."
