Washington, DC - The Latino Coalition (TLC), one of the largest membership and advocacy organizations for Latino-owned small businesses, issued the following statement today regarding Geisha J. Williams' promotion to President of Electric Operations for PG&E:

"The Latino Coalition congratulates Geisha J. Williams on her well-deserved promotion to President of Electric Operations for PG&E," said Hector Barreto, TLC Chairman and Former Administrator of the U.S. Small Business Administration. "Latina women continue rising to the occasion in the labor force and PG&E's promotion of Williams is a historic one making her the first-ever Latina appointed to the position of President of a regulated utility in the country. We commend Williams for her leadership, business shrewdness and dedication overseeing end-to-end delivery of electric service to 16 million people in northern and central California. And we wish her much success in her new role."

"Geisha J. Williams has a strong and successful track record with PG&E since 2007," says Allen Gutierrez, The Latino Coalition's National Executive Director. "She has exemplified knowledge, commitment and exceptional leadership in her current role and brings a wealth of experience to her new position."
